(Pendleton School) County Training

1921-22

Memo: Also called the Pendleton School, the large main building shown in the Rosenwald Fund photographs was remodeled by the WPA. The main building burned in the late 1960s. The shop building, built by the NYA in the late 1930s, is still standing and is used as a community center. The other remaining building is the Faith Cabin Library. This log cabin was built by community volunteers. This building is listed in the National Register as a part of the Pendleton Historic District. For more information about the Faith Cabin Libraries, visit <http://www.libsci.sc.edu/histories/aif/aif08.html>.
